

BizTimesMedia

NOTABLE WOMEN IN MANUFACTURING

MARY WIBERG SPRINGER
VICE PRESIDENT
THERMTECH HEAT TREATING INC.

Mary Wiberg Springer grew up in the heat-treating industry, working with her dad's first company, Midland Metal Treating, as a teenager.

Her father, Charles Wiberg, and brother Steve Wiberg later started another heat-treating company named ThermTech in Waukesha. In 1989 Mary accepted the challenge to become a part of the family business. As the company grew she helped develop systems, people and culture while her dad and brother established processes and equipment.

Charles Wiberg retired in the early 1990s, naming Steve and Mary equal partners, president and vice president, respectively. Together with their team, they grew the business from $5 million in sales to $25 million in sales.

ThermTech provides heat-treating services for more than 700 customers in the Midwest.

Wiberg Springer has been actively involved in The Metal Treating Institute Trade Association for over 25 years, achieving the acknowledgement of first woman president in 2006.

Notable Women in Manufacturing shine a spotlight on accomplished professionals throughout the region. The women profiled were nominated by their peers at work and in the community and showcase the diversity of talent in our market. These leaders are setting an example to shape a better future for our region.